

What is the difference between the Whit and Brown Coco ?

This is the so called coco White, it means the un-mature coco fruit, we use the core shell to do the kit !! the core shell of the un-mature coco fruit contain more moisture, so that it need more work to dry it and crack it , the finish come out with white color naturally !!

This is the so called coco brown, it means the mature coco fruit, we use the same part to do the kit, the core shell contain less moisture, the finish come out with brown color naturally !!
